Death came as a shock to the family as Mr. Patterson had been in his usual health and was stricken Friday morning. He was rushed to the hospital but passed away a few hours later.

Born in Galt, Mr. Patterson was 49 years of age. He has resided here for many years farming with success and had a wide circle of friends.

Surviving is a sorrowing wife and three of a family, Jean, Donna and Douglas, also his mother and brother Norman.

Recruits Wanted

Lieut. Col. J. Fred Scott was in Champion on Thursday seeking recruits for the Highlander regiment and also renewing friendship in the village.

About 200 men are required still and it is necessary to have the full quota by this week end. Inquiries should be directed at once to Calgary.

Enlistment is for overseas but training will be in Calgary with prospect of active service in the new year.

Men 18 to 45 are wanted but there is no compulsion. It is the duty of citizens to consider the matter and act accordingly.

Canada Mobilizes Two Divisions To Support Britain

It was announced from Ottawa Tuesday that two divisions will be organized at once, one to be ready for overseas service and the other held in readiness for any eventualities. At the same time it was stated that the personnel of the navy would be doubled, Coastal defences will be strengthened.

Announcement came following lengthy meetings of the Federal cabinet and in consultation with the British Government. Recruiting will be continued all over Canada.

At the same time industry will be organized for the purposes of making munitions and arms while special attention to supplying other necessities to the Allies.

Seriousness to Canada of the war was made all the greater over the week end by the entrance of the Soviet Union of Russia. Even at this late date no one can tell their exact motive of the Soviet Union.

Russia crossing into Poland. Their statement was to the effect that they wished only to protect their own nationals within Poland and it is probable that they will demand retention of that part of Poland which was part of Russia prior to 1918. On the other hand Germany now claims that Russia is her friend. If by any chance Russia is involved in war with Britain, only thirty five miles miles separate Russia from American soil and Canada might be called upon to take protective measures for all shipping on the west coast even if no attempt were made to invade Canada. The Government of Canada are alive to all the implications of the conflict and despite criticism and free advice are doing their utmost to safeguard Canada and at the same time lend a helping hand to Britain.

It was decided to leave the business of organizing the members into groups until next meeting.

The executive will be responsible for the next program to be held on Oct. 2nd.

At an executive meeting held following the constituted session plans were outlined for an active season ahead and these will be presented to the members for their approval. It is expected that some effort to help the Red Cross will be under taken.

On Tuesday when we were listening to the broadcast of Hitler over a nation wide hook up we could not help but wonder how many of those listening in really appreciated the fact that they were residents of those democracies that Hitler saw fit to slam and slur at every opportunity. If we were residents of Germany I am sure we would not have the privilege of listening to any foreign speaker.

Ladies - come in and let us tell you about the new Red Jacket water softener. It is so reasonable in price that you can't afford to be without one.

The hunting season is here. In Canada the wine of early frosts is in the air and the maples, like banners of crimson and gold against the dark friendly evergreens, proclaim that once again the "red gods" hold high carnival. The woods are at their best—the moose is sleek and black, the buck deer has his horns burnished to his fancy, the coat of the black bear shines like silk and the lustrous robe of the grizzly is a study in dark and grey. The big-horn sheep is restless and alert, the mountain goat snow white and the caribou in the prime. The grouse and woodcock are plump and contented in the coverts, while the ducks and geese are gathering in favourite feeding grounds in preparation for their long flight south.

The game areas of Canada, scattered from ocean to ocean, are readily accessible from any part of the continent. It is not a country for the wealthy sportsman only; the hunter with moderate means may also be suited. Local residents can enjoy a trip at a very reasonable cost. Sportmen from other lands are welcome and are only asked to show their appreciation of the privilege of access to her game fields by obeying the hunting laws and observing the ethics of sportsmanship.

A publication entitled "Canada's Game Fields" which should be of interest to sportmen planning a hunting trip in Canada may now be had upon application to the National Parks of Canada, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Business As Usual

There are many ways in which we can contribute to support of Canada's participation in the war and one is to hang a sign "Business as usual" In other words we must maintain a calm and impassionate spirit.

In reading the debates of Parliament as reported in Hansard all our leaders stress the importance of discussing the war with tolerance, moderation and enthusiasm for the policies which will make for a united Canada.

We are pleased to see the government give the lead in the maintenance of business levels. A letter recieved by this paper states that despite extra expenditures for War purposes the contract with firms for advertising will be continued. By giving support to business and giving attention to local problems Canada will best be able to unite for the support of the Empire.

A Useful Organization

We are pleased to note that the young people have again organized for the year. Wise selection of officers insures a successful program. We feel Mr. Hargrave has the capacity for leadership among the young people.

Young people must have their activities and energies directed and in an organization like the Dramatic Club much can be accomplished.

The officers have the good wishes of this paper and the public in their efforts.

An Encouragement To Giving

Generous minded citizens who are unable to fight will have plenty of scope to render patriotic service in other ways during the present war. If they have money they can give to the Red Cross or Patriotic Fund, to be formed shortly.

The Minister of Finance has done well to provide in the war budget that voluntary contributions to approved patriotic funds shall be considered on income tax.

The budget itself is designed to secure equitable financial assistance from everyone. This is conscription of wealth but only to a degree of safety to business. Great care has been taken to tax profits of rich and poor in the right proportion. The reaction is favorable.

Human nature is odd. We grumble if we hear of some industrialist making profits forgetting that there are fewer of us who would refuse to take a higher price for our grain or goods if given the chance. Taxation of profit is the fairest method and it is being applied with wisdom.

Notes

The amazing speeding of communications is emphasized by recalling an incident at sea two days after the Boer republic declared war on Britain. A ship about a week out from England met another vessel outward bound from Cape Town. The southbound signalled by the flag method, Is it peace or war and the flag waved 'war'. The recent declaration of war was radioed about the world while it was being delivered.

Oxygen Tank For Hospital At Carmangay

The regular monthly meeting of the Carmangay Hospital women's Auxiliary was held on Saturday night. Mrs. Morrison presided due to the illness of Mrs. Wilson.

A high light of the evening was a donation of $40.20 from the East Branch auxiliary. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the ladies for their help.

It is now possible to purchase an oxygen tank for the hospital. Any surplus money will be used toward the buying of an incubator.

Sewing and mending was distributed at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting will be on October 21st.

Highlights of Budget

Cost of War

To affect all

Government to follow as far as practicable a pay as you go policy in war finance insiting on principle of equality of sacrifice on the basis of ability to pay.

Necessary borrowing to be effected within Canada at little increase over present rates of interest.

Orders for munitions and supplies to provide stimulus in business, expanding employment increasing tax payment and enlarging incomes.

Government will not be timid in deciding when taxation has reached the limit beyond which it cannot go without producing inefficiency and lack of enterprise.

A small and carefully regulated amount of credit expansion may not be undesirable in the early stages of the war.

Canada's economic war effort may mean some regimentation which might not be acceptable to a democratic people in peace time.

Inflationary methods of financing a war described as most unfair and unequitable of all methods of diverting labour and materials to war time purposes.

Despite Canada's public debt and deficit in most other ways its economy is infinitely better than at the start of the last great war.

Borrowing operations will be necessary but policy will be to wait until after benefit of the initial economic expansion has been felt before long term large scale borrowing.

Need For Prayer

A message from Dr. D. T. Owen, Primate of All Canada, to the Church.

"Stand steady Another hour of great testing has struck. Once more the awful processes of destiny are laid bare before our eyes. As Christians we know that the God, whose heart is revealed in Christ, is working His purpose out, even through the mistakes and wickednesses of men. We must seek to unite ourselves with that divine purpose.

As Christians and Churchmen, by private and public prayer, let us seek mercy, strength and guidance for ourselves and our fellow countryman. In such times the history of our people brings strong comforting. They turned to God in repentance and faith, they stood unitedly together, they faced the dangers, they carried through to the end.

So we, in this awful day humble ourselves before the God of the whole earth, and stand together one people with Britain to face with ancient courage and faith whatever must be done.

Blessing, Mercy and Grace be with you.

Derwyn Owen.

Canada's New Chemical Industry

Development of an industry which can provide Canada with countless products not known or not available in 1914, and which has given Canada a hitherto unknown independence of foreign sources of many materials, was presented to visitors of the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

At an important period of modern history, immediately preceding and following the significant date of September 3rd more than a million Canadian citizens visited the pavilion of industrial chemistry. There they saw an industry of comparative youth, of widefold ramifications and such breadth that it produces from native materials thousands of products of vital importance to-day.

In 1914 this newest of modern sciences was almost unknown in Canada. Germany was known throughout the world at that time for its advances in the field of industrial chemistry, and to this science was credited much of that nation's strength when previously imported products were replaced with products of the laboratory. In 1917 and 1918, people throughout the world were amazed at the products that science evolved to replace other materials.

Since that time Canadian industrial chemistry has become an important factor in industrial, domestic and commercial affairs, the exhibition show revealed. More significant, however, was the realization that to day Canada stood with dozens of plants from coast to coast, laboratories manned by trained scientific and chemical staffs and an efficiently operating, coordinated distribution system, providing the machinery of chemical research and production for every need that may arise during coming months.

Wood pulp coal tar, nitrogen from the air, cotton lint, limestone, water and other equally available materials are some of the bases, Exhibition crowds learned, from which this science produces new materials which can be fashioned into innumerable wares. To day aeroplanes are equipped with shatter resistant glass evolved by industrial chemistry, surgeons working under any conditions use a glass like material which can direct light batteries in the handle of the instrument to the spot where they are operating; special paints are produced from materials which are more durable than those nature previously supplied from far off places.

Plastics unknown only a few years ago, are fashioned from water, air and coal, to be used in innumerable ways, not the least of which are many purposes in the airplane manufacturing industry. Rubber, liable to swift deterioration under certain conditions, has been equalled in resiliency and outlasted in durability by a material made from water, air and coal.
